

« PrevNext »

Postgres Weekly

Issue 216 — July 19, 2017

PostgreSQL 10 Beta 2 Released

Postgres 10 is shaping up to be a great release, and the latest beta version is here. Give it a try and if you encounter any issues make sure to send it over to the PostgreSQL list.

POSTGRESQL #NEWS

Customizing My Postgres Shell

Postgres already comes with a powerful editor-psql CLI. Take a look at how you can customize it with a psqlrc config.

CITUSDATA

Announcing: How to Earn More as a Software Developer

Technical knowledge alone isn't enough—increase your income by leveling up your "soft skills." Learn new skills faster, command more respect, find work you love, and earn what you're worth. Get the book for $0.99 (48 hours only).

SIMPLE PROGRAMMER #SPONSORED

News and Roadmap for Postgres-XL 10

Postgres-XL is actively being worked on, check out what's upcoming and get an update on where they've moved development to.

2NDQUADRANT #NEWS

Randomized Primary Keys in Postgres

EMERSON LACKEY

Getting Started with Event Sourcing in Postgres

SIMON TARANTO

The Seven Types of SQL Joins

EREN BAYDEMIR

Using PostgreSQL with Azure and Node.js

BURKE HOLLAND #VIDEO

Barman 2.2 Released: A Postgres Backup and Recovery Manager

2NDQUADRANT

Bring your database management into the present day

Check out our 5 Steps to Agile Database Management to ditch your dated DBMS once and for all.

SELECTSTAR #SPONSORED

Postgres Job Queues and Failure By MVCC

A detailed rundown of issues you can encounter when using Postgres as a queue (though some improvements to Postgres have been made since the article was originally published which would improve things).

BRANDUR LEACH

Cool Stuff in Postgres 10: Auto-Logging

DAVID FETTER

Want to subscribe? Enter your address here

Subscribe now »

Easy to unsubscribe at any time. Your e-mail address is safe — here's our privacy policy.